

Declaration of consent

for a video contribution to the “b@s videochallenge” competition

_____ (Name of the student[s])

_____ (Address)

_____ – hereinafter referred to as “Author” –

and

_____ (Name of the contributor[s])

_____ (Address)

_____ – hereinafter referred to as “Contributor”

The Author shall produce a contribution to the competition “b@s videochallenge” for Boston Consulting Group’s educational initiative business@school.

1. The Contributor grants the Author—without prejudice to indispensable moral rights—permission to use the contribution made with his/her collaboration in whole or in part free of charge and without restrictions in terms of space or time.
2. The Contributor furthermore consents to the publication of the resulting contribution in whole or in part in the context of the competition on the website www.videochallenge.online and in communication channels of the competition host, The Boston Consulting Group GmbH, and of the companies analyzed during this year’s competition and involved in the prize awarding (such as online offerings, print formats, and social media portals, e.g., YouTube, Facebook, Instagram, etc., as well as to its unrestricted digital and analog use.
3. The Contributor declares that there are no rights of third parties preventing his/her contribution.
4. Any changes and additions must be in writing. No verbal agreements or ancillary agreements have been made or are valid.

Place, date: _____

Contributor’s signature: _____

I/we agree to the regulations agreed in sections 1, 2, and 4:

Parent or guardian’s name and signature (for minors):

Name: _____ Signature: _____